Wereldwijzer 6 – June 2021

Dear Parents and caregivers,

In the past period, we have worked hard on language, reading and arithmetic. We can also make more and more differentiation per group in regular classes, so that the children can receive more level lessons. What the final period will look like with regular tests, explains teacher Annemieke later in the Wereldwijzer.

In the language classes, the students discussed concepts such as house and city. Children have made cities themselves and talked about their own house. Beautiful new furniture has been purchased for the language classes. A photo can be found later in this Wereldwijzer.

We are now entering the final period, where we assume that more and more relaxation can be done. However, the school party will not succeed within the applicable measures. Miss Mariëlle is busy designing an alternative with the team to end the year with a group.

We hope to be able to do the school trip at the start of the school year next school year and to finally welcome you back to the school. We missed you!

Sincerely, also on behalf of the team,

Ronith Root

Regular Cito tests and parent conversations

Due to the Corona situation, this school year is also different from the years before. This affects, among other things, the Cito tests and the subsequent parent meetings and reports. Cito's middle keys have been delayed for a number of weeks due to the lockdown. As a result, the end Cito keys come pretty quickly after the middle Cito keys. That is why it was decided to only administer the calculation and mathematics Cito test, the reading comprehension Cito test and the AVI reading test. Together with the method-related tests, this then forms the information that is needed to determine a suitable educational offer for your child.

The parent meetings are not scheduled for all parents, but only at the request of you or the teacher. The students will receive their report card home on Thursday 24 June.

IEP final test group 8

Wednesday April 21 was an exciting day for the 8th grade students; it was the day of the IEP final test. We received the results of that last week. For a number of students, the final final advice could be adjusted upwards. We are pleased with the result of the final test, which is higher than an earlier forecast.

Tests and parent conversations ITK

From June 21, tests will be taken at the language classes. The results of these tests are compared with the individual goals of the pupils' learning paths. This will be discussed with you in the parent meetings that follow. You will then hear whether your child is developing according to his/her own learning path. A large number of students will leave after the summer holidays. There will no longer be a parent meeting for these students.

In general, you can always make an appointment with the teacher yourself if you need a parent meeting.

Kindergarten Purple

Our kindergarten language class started on March 1, which now has 17 students. They work with the same themes as the other language classes. So now they are working on the theme From Home to City. This is playfully worked on by reading books, singing songs and playing with materials. A picture book with concrete objects is depicted on the storytelling table. The teacher and the children can act out the story with this. By often repeating the story in different ways, the children learn the words that go with it.

Rule of the week

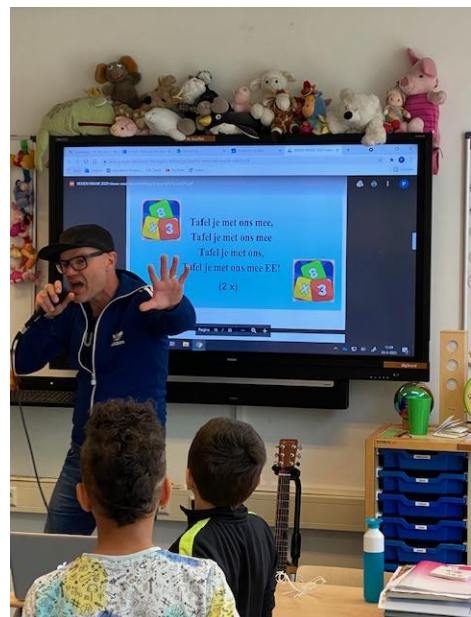

The following rules of conduct will be central in the coming period:

31 May/ 11 June	I walk quietly in the building
14 June/ 25 June	I listen to someone else
28 June/ 8 July	I use materials for which they are intended

Art and Culture at School

From the Kunst en Cultuur Op School project, all classes received musical math lessons from Marco. In the basement they counted on music. In the middle school they practiced the tables to music and in the superstructure they worked with fractions to music. What an enthusiasm came from the classrooms.

Art weeks

Last week, all students received a card from the Art Weeks containing the code to reveal the artwork online. The students have put time and effort into the artworks and the results have turned out beautiful! We enjoyed participating in this (virtual) project and are proud of the results. Above all, reveal your child's artwork at home so that we can view the online exhibition of all the artworks in the classroom!

The students are so happy with the new outdoor table tennis table! The table has recently been placed on the world square and the table is already used intensively. The game 'Tables' is a favorite.

The vertical group of the daycare center is working on the theme of living in a house.
